The Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center performs six programs with 23 works never before performed by CMS at SPAC; featuring 24 artists from 9 countries, spanning 260 years of repertoire

Saratoga Springs, NY (January 13, 2019) – The Saratoga Performing Arts Center (SPAC) will welcome home resident companies -- New York City Ballet, The Philadelphia Orchestra, and The Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center -- in a 2019 line-up marked by a record number of SPAC premieres of both iconic works of the classical repertoire and new works by living composers and choreographers.

NEW YORK CITY BALLET (NYCB)’s residency (July 16 – 20) will once again feature four distinct programs including the story ballet Coppélia, which was premiered at SPAC, an evening dedicated to Balanchine and Tschaikovsky, and a program showcasing three SPAC premieres by 21st century choreographers, highlighted by Kyle Abraham’s The Runaway, which fuses modern and classical technique and an eclectic soundtrack mixing composer Nico Muhly, singer James Blake, and hip-hop artists Jay-Z and Kanye West. The annual New York City Ballet Gala, on Saturday, July 20, will showcase George Balanchine’s Apollo, Christopher Wheeldon’s This Bitter Earth and a new piece by NYCB Resident Choreographer and Soloist Justin Peck.

“Our beloved resident company, New York City Ballet, will perform four distinct programs spanning the great, iconic ballets of Balanchine with the music of Tschaikovsky... to a new showcase of works by 21st century choreographers never before seen at SPAC... to the story ballet Coppélia, which was originally premiered at SPAC and will feature a cast of local children... and finally our ballet Gala celebrating Apollo and his muses,” said Elizabeth Sobol, president and CEO of Saratoga Performing Arts Center. “Whether you are a Balanchine lover or enjoy adventurous new works, you will find something thrilling and exceptional during this season.”

THE PHILADELPHIA ORCHESTRA’S three-week residency (July 31 – August 17) will be highlighted by 19 SPAC premieres ranging from classical masterpieces to innovative contemporary compositions, marking a record number of pieces that have never before been performed on SPAC’s stage, ranging from Aaron Copland’s Appalachian Spring to Mason Bates’ Anthology of Fantastic Zoology. Back by popular demand will be SPAC’s “Cinema Series,” which will delight audiences of all ages as the Orchestra accompanies, live to picture, Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets™ in Concert; Disney • Pixar’s Up in Concert and Charlie Chaplin’s City Lights in Concert. The season will, once again, showcase two weeks under the baton of Yannick Nézet-Séguin, Music Director of both The Philadelphia Orchestra and The Metropolitan Opera. Nézet-Séguin will conduct the closing night performance of Mozart’s Requiem.

The Orchestra’s 2019 season will also feature a line-up of acclaimed and emerging artists appearing at SPAC for the first time. Performing with The Philadelphia Orchestra for the first time is the Jazz at Lincoln Center Orchestra (AUG 15) and classical pianist Christian Blackshaw (AUG 17); making their SPAC debuts in 2019 are pianists Janice Carissa (AUG 2) and Jan Lisiecki (AUG 16), Peruvian conductor Miguel Harth-Bedoya (AUG 9), and the dancers of PHILADANCO (JUL 31) in The Philadelphia Orchestra’s opening night performance.

“This summer we will present a record number of works that have never before been performed on SPAC’s stage,” said Sobol. “From contemporary works like Mason Bates’ Anthology of Fantastic Zoology and popular film scores to surprising omissions of masterpieces long overdue for the SPAC stage like Mozart’s Requiem and Copland’s Appalachian Spring. The 2019 season concerts will offer an extraordinary depth of repertoire performed by artists of matchless talent, providing audiences that perfect confluence of natural setting and great performance that make summers at SPAC so unforgettable.”

THE CHAMBER MUSIC SOCIETY OF LINCOLN CENTER (CMS) returns (August 4 - 20) with a roster of internationally celebrated artists, taking audiences at the Spa Little Theatre on a musical journey with six programs designed specifically for the SPAC Residency of 23 works never before been performed by CMS at SPAC. In addition to performances by David Finckel and Wu Han, Co-Artistic Directors of CMS, in residency for all three weekends, audiences will experience the return of the Escher Quartet, plus debut appearances by four artists including Chinese violinist Angelo Xiang Yu, British flutist Adam Walker, Bulgarian violinist Bella Hristova and renowned American cellist Keith Robinson.

Co-Artistic Directors of the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center, Wu Han and David Finckel, said in a quote: “We are gratified to continue fulfilling SPAC’s commitment to the world’s finest chamber music repertoire and performances. These programs, designed specifically for this residency, comprise a chamber music listening experience of incomparable depth and diversity. We look forward to reuniting with our devoted SPAC audience and Saratoga Springs community.”

NEW YORK CITY BALLET: JULY 16 - 20

Tschaikovsky and Balanchine

TUESDAY, JULY 16 @ 8PM
THURSDAY, JULY 18 @ 2PM

Serenade (Tschaikovsky/Balanchine)
NYCB’s opening night and its Thursday matinee will celebrate three of Balanchine’s iconic ballets set to Tschaikovsky’s compositions, whose music was a great inspiration to the New York City Ballet co-founder.

Serenade, the first original ballet Balanchine created in America, is a milestone in the history of dance and remains a beloved, luminous work in the repertoire. Mozartiana, choreographed to a Tschaikovsky composition derived from Mozart piano pieces, creates an atmosphere of hushed contemplation. Balanchine first choreographed to this music at the start of his career in 1933, and nearly 50 years later, he returned to the score to create a new ballet, one of his last works. Tschaikovsky Piano Concerto No. 2 is an ebullient work of classical virtuosity for 27 dancers.

SPAC Premieres By 21st Century Choreographers

WEDNESDAY, JULY 17 @ 8PM

Varied Trio (in four) (Harrison/Frohlich)
New Peck (Stevens/Peck)
The Runaway (Nico Muhly, Kanye West, Jay-Z, James Blake/Abraham)

Varied Trio (in four) by NYCB Ballet Master Jean-Pierre Frohlich is a collection of short dances for a couple whose movements resonate with the simple, minimalist Lou Harrison score.

Set to a commissioned score for full orchestra, Justin Peck’s new work — his fourth collaboration with acclaimed composer and singer-songwriter Sufjan Stevens — will premiere as part of New York City Ballet’s 2019 winter season.

Kyle Abraham’s choreographic perspective takes center stage in The Runaway, which fuses modern and classical technique, accented by dramatic lighting, imaginative costumes by Giles Deacon, and an eclectic soundtrack mixing composer Nico Muhly, singer James Blake, and hip-hop artists Jay-Z and Kanye West.

Coppélia

THURSDAY, JULY 18 @ 8PM
FRIDAY, JULY 19 @ 8PM
SATURDAY, JULY 20 @ 2PM

Coppélia (Delibes/Balanchine, Danilova)

Considered one of the greatest comedic ballets of the 19th Century, Coppélia premiered in Saratoga in 1974 and was co-commissioned by SPAC. Choreographed by George Balanchine and Alexandra Danilova after Marius Petipa, it has remained one of the best-loved classical works in the ballet repertory. Called one of the “happiest ballets in existence,” it tells the story of an eccentric inventor and the lifelike doll he creates. The work is visually stunning, with storybook sets and a cast of dancing children. The music of Coppélia links two great historical periods of ballet — the French Romantic style and the Russian Classical style.

SPAC’s NYC Ballet Gala

Mozartiana (Tschaikovsky/Balanchine)

Tschaikovsky Piano Concerto No. 2 (Tschaikovsky/Balanchine)
SATURDAY, JULY 20 @ 8PM

Apollo (Stravinsky/Balanchine)
This Bitter Earth (Richter,Otis/Wheeldon)
New Peck (Stevens/Peck)

SPAC’s NYC Ballet Gala, the finale to New York City Ballet’s 2019 residency, will be highlighted by Balanchine’s first collaboration with Stravinsky and one of his earliest international successes, Apollo. The ballet presents the young god as he is ushered into adulthood by the muses of poetry, mime, and dance.

This Bitter Earth is a pas de deux from Christopher Wheeldon’s Five Movements, Three Repeats. The full work was originally created for Fang-Yi Sheu & Artists, a group led by former Martha Graham Dance Company star Fang-Yi Sheu that included NYCB dancers Wendy Whelan, Tyler Angle, and Craig Hall. This breathtaking and poetic dance explores the haunting, tenuous melodies of Dinah Washington’s soulful rendition of This Bitter Earth remixed with British composer Max Richter’s On the Nature of Daylight.

The 2019 residency will conclude with Justin Peck’s new work – his fourth collaboration with Oscar-nominated composer Sufjan Stevens.

THE PHILADELPHIA ORCHESTRA: JULY 31 – 17

WEDNESDAY, JULY 31 @ 8PM: Festive Fireworks
Stéphane Denève, conductor
Dancers of PHILADANCO
Rimsky-Korsakov Sheherazade
Ravel La Valse
Tchaikovsky 1812 Overture

Opening Night of The Philadelphia Orchestra’s August residency will continue the new tradition of featuring Tchaikovsky’s famed 1812 Overture, complete with fireworks and live cannon fire as the kick-off to the 2019 Orchestra season. New to the program for 2019, will be the SPAC premiere of dancers from the Philadelphia Dance Company (PHILADANCO).

Internationally acclaimed, PHILADANCO is celebrated for its innovation, creativity and preservation of predominantly African-American traditions in dance. Described as “Exuberant” by the New York Times, Philadanco has grown, since 1970, from a community arts organization based in West Philadelphia to a dance company celebrated throughout the world. Joan Myers Brown and her 17 dancers are famed for innovative choreography, blending African American-based dance with ballet, jazz, and modern.

The evening will be conducted by Stéphane Denève, who is currently in his fifth season as principal guest conductor of The Philadelphia Orchestra, a position that runs through the 2019-20 season. He has led more programs with the Orchestra than any other guest conductor since making his debut in 2007, in repertoire that has spanned more than 100 works, ranging from Classical through the contemporary, including presentations with dance, theater, film, and cirque performers.
THURSDAY, AUGUST 1 @ 2PM: Beyond Baroque
Stéphane Denève, conductor

Palestrina/orch. Stokowski  “Adoramus te”*
Ravel  Le Tombeau de Couperin
Stravinsky  Suite from Pulcinella
Bach/orch. Stokowski  Passacaglia and Fugue in C minor
Bach/orch. Stokowski  Fugue in G minor (“Little”)*
Bach/orch. Stokowski  Toccata and Fugue in D minor

Leopold Stokowski, known for his long tenure as music director of The Philadelphia Orchestra, was a cultural pioneer, bringing the latest in art and music to Philadelphia during the first half of the 20th century and presenting it in bold, new ways – most notably his incredible orchestrations of famous works by such composers as Giovanni Pierluigi da Pergolesi and Johann Sebastian Bach.

This robust program features Bach’s Toccata and Fugue in D minor, which has become a vastly popular piece, especially in the horror genre, and has been prevalent in pop culture since well before the sound film era. Although a great masterwork in the classical cannon, Bach’s Toccata and Fugue in D minor saw renewed popularity from an orchestration by Stokowski that he and The Philadelphia Orchestra performed in the 1940 animated film Fantasia.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 2 @ 8PM: Songs of the Sea
Stéphane Denève, conductor
Janice Carissa, piano

Britten  “Four Sea Interludes,” from Peter Grimes*
Ravel  Piano Concerto in G major
Debussy/orch. Stokowski  “The Sunken Cathedral,” from Preludes*
Debussy  La Mer

A native of Indonesia and a Young Scholar of Lang Lang’s International Music Foundation, pianist Janice Carissa will make her SPAC debut performing Ravel’s Piano Concerto in G major on August 2. Also highlighting the evening under the baton of Stéphane Denève are the “Four Sea Interludes” from Britten’s opera Peter Grimes and Debussy’s “The Sunken Cathedral,” both appearing at SPAC for the first time.

Debussy's musical innovations became closely associated with the Impressionist movement, a term that was initially used pejoratively in connection with Claude Monet’s paintings. Many of Debussy’s pieces were inspired by images and by nature. As he once remarked: “I am trying in some way to do ‘something different’ — an effect of reality — what some imbeciles call ‘Impressionism,’ a term that is utterly misapplied, especially by the critics.” In La Mer he offers three meditations on the sea: “From Dawn to Midday at Sea,” “Play of the Waves,” and “Dialogue of the Wind and the Sea.”

SATURDAY, AUGUST 3 @ 8PM: Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets™ in Concert
Williams  Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets™ (complete with film)*

The concert will feature The Philadelphia Orchestra performing, live to picture, every note from Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets™, the second installment of the popular series. Audiences will be able to relive the magic of the film in high-definition projected on the big screen while hearing the live symphony orchestra perform John Williams’ Grammy-nominated score.
In Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets™, based on J.K. Rowling’s novel, cars fly, trees fight back and a mysterious house-elf comes to warn Harry Potter at the start of his second year at Hogwarts. Adventure and danger await when bloody writing on a wall announces: The Chamber of Secrets has been opened. To save Hogwarts will require all of Harry, Ron and Hermione’s magical abilities and courage.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 7 @ 8PM: Yannick Returns

Yannick Nézet-Séguin, conductor

Clyne
Masquerade*

Chausson
Poème de l’amour et de la mer

Rachmaninoff
Symphony No. 1*

Masquerade “draws its inspiration from the original mid-18th-century promenade concerts held in London’s pleasure gardens” according to composer Anna Clyne and was dedicated to the Proms’ concertgoers for which this piece originally premiered. This richly orchestrated work includes an old English country dance melody and a drinking song to add a festive flair to the program.

Chausson’s Poème de l’amour et de la mer, which translates to Poem of Love and the Sea, is a 19th-century song cycle about love, loss and the sea. This program, marking the return of Yannick Nézet-Séguin to SPAC’s podium, celebrates the interplay between the romantic texts of Maurice Bouchor and Chausson's lush orchestration. According to Yannick, "This is just an amazing collection of poems and it got me thinking how color in symphonic music can be ... a way of getting to a true soul of a piece."

Closing the evening is Rachmaninoff’s Symphony No. 1.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 8 @ 8PM: American Idylls

Yannick Nézet-Séguin, conductor

Higdon
blue cathedral

Copland
Appalachian Spring

Respighi
Fountains of Rome

Bates
Anthology of Fantastic Zoology

August 8 will feature three SPAC premieres: blue cathedral, an orchestral composition by the American composer Jennifer Higdon and one of the composer’s most performed works; the orchestral suite from Copland’s Appalachian Spring, the Pulitzer Prize-winning depiction of the American idyll, which also popularized the Shaker folk song "Simple Gifts"; and Mason Bates’ Anthology of Fantastic Zoology, titled after mythical creatures from the book of the same name by Argentinian literary giant Jorge Luis Borges. The work exploits the virtuosity of the Orchestra to evoke what the composer calls a “psychedelic bestiary.”

Fountains of Rome, the piece that eventually put Respighi on the international map, celebrates four of the city’s famous fountains as a highlight of this aquatic-themed program.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 9 @ 8PM: South American Sounds

Miguel Harth-Bedoya, conductor

Elizabeth Hainen, harp

Márquez
Danzón No. 2

Ginastera
Harp Concerto*
Under the baton of Peruvian conductor Miguel Harth-Bedoya, making his first-ever SPAC appearance, this program will transport listeners to South America with three SPAC premieres that explore the sounds of Argentina and Peru.

The effervescent Harp Concerto by the celebrated Argentinian composer Alberto Ginastera was premiered by The Philadelphia Orchestra in 1965 and is today performed by the current principal harp, Elizabeth Hainen, considered one of classical music's great harp ambassadors. Hailed by the Washington Post for her “unusual presence with silky transparency” and by the New York Times for her “earthy solidarity,” she has thrilled audiences throughout the world with programs showcasing the diversity—and virtuosity—of her modern-day instrument.

The allure of tangos and other dance-inflected rhythms merge in Piazzolla’s sultry music with his sophisticated compositional training in Paris, where he went at the urging of Ginastera. Tangazo is one of Piazzolla’s late compositions, which he originally wrote for a small ensemble and then arranged for full orchestra. The concert concludes with Perú negro by the young Peruvian composer Jimmy López. A celebration of AfroPeruvian traditions, the work honors López’s compatriot, this concert’s conductor, Miguel Harth-Bedoya, by using a four-note theme based on his initials.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 10 @ 8PM: Disney • Pixar’s Up in Concert
Constantine Kitsopoulos, conductor

Making its SPAC premiere as part of the film’s 10th anniversary, Disney • Pixar’s Up in Concert will be screened alongside The Philadelphia Orchestra performing its Academy® and Grammy® Award-winning score, live to picture as the second film in the popular “Cinema Series at SPAC.”

The Academy Award-winning film features a 78-year-old curmudgeonly balloon salesman named Carl as its hero. When he ties thousands of balloons to his house and flies away to the wilds of South America, he finally fulfills his lifelong dream of adventure. But after Carl discovers an 8-year-old stowaway named Russell, this unlikely duo soon finds themselves on a hilarious journey in a lost world filled with danger and surprises.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 14 @ 8PM: Chaplin City Lights
Kensho Wantanabe, conductor

Charlie Chaplin’s immortal romantic comedy City Lights gets even brighter when The Philadelphia Orchestra performs Chaplin’s score live while the complete film — considered to be among the greatest ever made — is shown on a giant screen above the stage for the final installment of the “Cinema Series @ SPAC.”

Charlie Chaplin, one of the towering icons of film history, central to the field of film as a producer, director, and actor, is instantly recognizable to people around the world for his signature character, the Tramp. In 1999, the American Film Institute placed him on its list as one of the “greatest male movie stars of all time”; it also acknowledged his film City Lights as one the “100 best American films ever made.”
Chaplin, unlike most directors in the silent film era, composed the music for City Lights: “I tried to compose elegant and romantic music to frame my comedies in contrast to the tramp character, for elegant music gave my comedies an emotional dimension. Musical arrangers rarely understood this. They wanted the music to be funny. But I would explain that I wanted no competition, I wanted the music to be a counterpoint of grace and charm, to express sentiment, without which, a work of art is incomplete.”

THURSDAY, AUGUST 15 @ 8PM: Marsalis Swing Symphony

William Eddins, conductor
Jazz at Lincoln Center Orchestra
TBA
Marsalis Swing Symphony

The Jazz at Lincoln Center Orchestra (JLCO), comprising 15 of the finest jazz soloists and ensemble players today, has been the Jazz at Lincoln Center resident orchestra since 1988. Under Music Director, Grammy Award® and Pulitzer Prize-winner Wynton Marsalis, the Jazz at Lincoln Center Orchestra performs a vast repertoire, from rare historic pieces to Jazz at Lincoln Center-commissioned works, including compositions and arrangements by Duke Ellington, Count Basie, Fletcher Henderson, Thelonious Monk, Mary Lou Williams, Dizzy Gillespie, Benny Goodman, Charles Mingus, and many others.

Commissioned by the Berliner Philharmoniker Foundation, Swing Symphony is Marsalis’s third symphonic work, which he describes as a symphonic meditation on the evolution of swing. Swing Symphony will feature both JLCO and The Philadelphia Orchestra, following an opening piece by Jazz at Lincoln Center Orchestra.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 16 @ 8PM: Jan & Yannick

Yannick Nézet-Séguin, conductor
Jan Lisiecki, pianist

Wagner Prelude to Act I of Lohengrin
Grieg Piano Concerto
Dvořák Symphony No. 7

Making his SPAC debut is 23-year-old Canadian pianist Jan Lisiecki, who has won acclaim for his extraordinary interpretive maturity, distinctive sound, and poetic sensibility. The New York Times has called him “a pianist who makes every note count.” Lisiecki’s insightful interpretations, refined technique, and natural affinity for art give him a musical voice that belies his age. He will perform Grieg’s Piano Concerto, marking the first time that the piece has been played on SPAC’s stage in more than a decade.

Under the baton of Yannick Nézet-Séguin, the program will also feature Dvořák’s impassioned Symphony No.7, considered one of his towering achievements, and Wagner’s Prelude to Act I of Lohengrin.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 17 @ 8PM: All Mozart

Yannick Nézet-Séguin, conductor
Christian Blackshaw, pianist

Albany Pro Musica
Mozart Piano Concerto No. 27, K. 595
Mozart Requiem*

These pieces are marked with an asterisk and indicate that they are performed by piano alone.
Mozart’s haunting Requiem came at the very end of his life: He died before he could finish it. A choral masterpiece featuring four renowned vocalists and the powerful forces of the Albany Pro Musica, it is considered one of the greatest expressions of faith ever cast as a work of art. Yannick Nézet-Séguin, Music Director of The Philadelphia Orchestra and the new Music Director of the Metropolitan Opera, will lead the Orchestra as the finale to the classical season on the amphitheater stage.

Making his Philadelphia Orchestra debut on SPAC’s stage for the finale performance is pianist Christian Blackshaw, celebrated for his recordings of Mozart and called the “eternal perfectionist” by Gramophone magazine.

Three compositions, three undeniable masterpieces. CMS celebrates the virtuosity and genius of the baroque keyboard concerto with JS Bach, Hungarian flair and nationalism with Zoltan Kodály’s Duo for Violin and Cello, and an inventive collaboration of nine winds and strings in Spohr’s Grand Nonetto, the first work ever to be written for this unusual grouping of instruments.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 11 @ 3PM: Deeply Inspired

Schubert
Trio in B-flat major for Violin, Viola, and Cello, D. 581
Mozart
Concerto No. 12 in A major for Piano and String Quintet, K. 414

Juho Pohjonen, Piano; Wu Han, Piano; Chad Hoopes, Violin; Arnaud Sussmann, Violin; Matthew Lipman, Viola; David Finckel, Cello; Keith Robinson, Cello.

Lost to the world too soon, Schubert, Mozart and Mendelssohn gave classical music some of its most profound and compelling works. Deeply Inspired spotlights these iconic composers together in one performance, including an effervescent string trio written when Schubert was only 20 years old and Mendelssohn’s moving Piano Trio No. 2, the last chamber work the composer lived to see published.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 13 @ 8PM: International Voices

SUNDAY, AUGUST 18 @ 3PM: Vienna to Paris
- Beethoven, Trio in C minor for Violin, Viola, and Cello, Op. 9, No. 3

Wu Han, Piano; Paul Huang, Violin; Paul Neubauer, Viola; David Finckel, Cello; Escher String Quartet: Adam Barnett-Hart, Violin; Danbi Um, Violin; Pierre Lapointe, Viola; Brook Speltz, Cello.

The majestic cities of Vienna and Paris were thriving centers of creative energy in the 18th and 19th centuries, nurturing many great artists. Among those was Beethoven, who wrote a copious amount of works shortly after moving to Vienna in 1792, including his popular Op. 9 string trios. A hundred years later, Debussy’s Paris provided a stunning backdrop for his string quartet, which revealed previously unimagined possibilities for quartet composition. Brahms’s blockbuster piano quartet provides a spectacular finish to the program.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 20 @ 8PM: Technical Brilliance
- Mozart, Quartet in F major for Strings, K. 590, “Prussian”
- Saint-Saëns, Sonata No. 1 in D minor for Violin and Piano, Op. 75
- Dvořák, Sextet in A major for Two Violins, Two Violas, and Two Cellos, Op. 48
